ABOUT OUR COMPANY

Z- Carpentry has emerged as a company known for its warm personality and small town values. Martin Zerzycki is the principal founder of Z-Carpentry, recently partnering with his son Michael. Michael brings together teams of interior designers, vendors, architects, engineers and subcontractors who have a mutual commitment to high quality results. Years of combined knowledge and experience guarantees that the result of each residential or commercial construction project adds a luxurious quality to the home or work space. FastQuotes is a Milwaukee native business immersed in construction, remodeling and creative projects since establishment. Martin grew up in Greenfield, Wisconsin where he founded Z-Carpentry in 1989. Marty loves a challenge, woodworking and country air. He owns his own home in Saukville, Wisconsin. Throughout the course of his life, he has encountered many different clients, methods of construction and design preferences. These vast experiences give him the unique perspective that helps enrich his clients' design goals.

Holding a degree of professionalism and ambition for his personal craftsmanship, Martin uses his skills, knowledge and licenses in both commercial and residential construction to assist his clients in finding their affordable and perfect haven irregardless of brief or budget. His knowledge of Interior remodeling is the forefront of his family's business, which develops commercial and residential properties.

Marty's knowledge of the entire spectrum of the remodeling world has given his clients the ability to work with him exclusively on all the phases of the renovation and building process. This includes all the stages of remodeling. That being said, we have dedicated ourselves to creating spaces that reflect the personality and preferences of our clients, turning their spaces into dreams come true.

Be assured that with Z-Carpentry you will be in very capable hands, not only because of experience, but because we adore what we do. The most important goal for us is complete satisfaction.

TERMS AND SERVICE

FastQuotes assumes all liability for project completion. As such, we ensure you are well protected for all unforeseeable events that hinder your ability to complete the job. In addition, we work with financial advisors and budget tools that will help you acquire specialty tools and

GUARANTEE

We offer our clients a FastQuotes guarantee which ensures our craftsmanship, materials and payment of sub-contractors before our final payments are received.

PROMISE

We protect our partners and customers upfront by providing homeowners with the names of all professionals we will work with to complete the project. Homeowners verify that you have been paid by receiving partial lien releases during the construction term, and a final lien release at completion. FastQuotes collects releases and presents them to the homeowner. These are essentially formal acknowledgments from you (subcontractors) that you have been paid for work done before our final payment is received.

NEED TO KNOW

We don't accept kickbacks from our contractors—where we get bonuses from our subs for referring business—standard affidavits ensure that we're not getting any "fees" from subcontractors as a prerequisite for doing business with them. We keep costs well-defined by providing a "bid summary," which shows a minimum of two - three quotes in every cost category of budget.

INSURANCE

Insurance is a "must have" for all of our sub-contractors. This relinquishes your personal responsibility if materials were to be damaged during transport or installation and any other occurrences of property damage on a customer's home.
